Dear Chairwoman Lowey and Ranking Member Granger,

On behalf of the associations listed below, representing college leaders, educators and professionals, we write offering our strong support for the FY2020 Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies appropriations bill passed out of subcommittee last week.

The funding levels provided in this bill would, if enacted, have a profoundly positive impact on the millions of college students who rely on federal financial aid to afford college. The bill provides a $150 increase in the maximum Pell Grant, an increase that allows the grant to keep pace with inflation. In addition, it provides substantial increases for the Federal Work Study and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant programs, which provide grant and work-based aid to low-income students.

Critical increases for programs such as TRIO, GEAR UP, Title VI international education, CCAMPIS, Teacher Quality Partnerships and the Titles III and V programs for historically black colleges and universities and minority-serving institutions will lead to greater affordability and higher quality postsecondary education. We were also pleased to see that the bill includes $150 million in new funding for community colleges to provide training and employment assistance under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act.

The bill also recognizes the vital role biomedical research plays in improving the quality of life for all Americans, while also strengthening our economy and global competitiveness, by providing a $2 billion increase in funding for research at the National Institutes of Health. Support for this research pays benefits in both the short- and long-term, and is smart investment in our nation's research system.

We thank you for the efforts made on behalf of higher education and medical research in this bill, and encourage your members to vote in support.

Sincerely,

Ted Mitchell
President
